NEW BOOKS

Fifty-three Experiences In New Thought by 49 writers; printed by the Elizabeth Town Company, Hol.

The compiler makes no misstatement hen she says: "This book is a bub-ling fountain of inspiration and sugbling fountain of inspiration and suggestions for self-help in desired directions." It is by the experiences of others that we learn to help ourselves and to advance our physical, mental and financial interests. A half hundred people who tell what the better thought has done for them knock out doubts and fears and re-enforce the reader for the strife and the pleasures of life. Few of us really know how to pray right, live right and keep right. These 49 people have done it, and present a most convincing symposium of the power of thought and the triumph of mind over the trials of life. This is

French still holding Verdun, and at the same time pushing a vigorous offensive against their adversaries.

The conquest of Belgium is not to Germany's credit. A powerful nation does not gain glory by invading a peaceful nation which it had promised to protect.

The British defeat in Mesopotamia will have little bearing on the war in general.

The Gormans have captured the greater part of Poland, Galicia, as well as Warsaw, and the great Russian fortress line from Ossowets to Dubno, and yet they are far from victorious.

Lady Asistant

If you buy coal in large quantities you must have room to store it; if in small quantities, it is expensive. When you want to use it you must carry it from its storage place to your range, and of all tasks that is one of the most weary.

When you burn wood or coal you have the heat, dirt, and the trouble of attending to the fire. If you use gas you require no room for storage; no back-breaking scuttles to be carried from the cellar to the kitchen. The fire in the gas range burns steadily and without attention; it is always ready, without dirt or trouble, in large or small quantities.
